

BRIDGE ABUTMENTS BIDS ASKED FOR JUNE 5

Commissioner Duffey Keeps His Promise in Regard to the Sleightsburgh Bridge and the Saugerties Road by Having Plans Prepared and Advertising for Bids.

Commissioner Duffey of the state highway department has taken the first step toward fulfilling his promise to Senator Walton and Philip Elting, made about ten days ago, according to plans received today by County Superintendent Loughran.

The plans are for the abutment for the Rondout-Sleightsburgh bridge and bids for the work are to be submitted on June 5.

Accompanying these plans are the miles, through Saugerties village, the state to build 16 feet of the road's width and the village to pay for the remainder. These bids are also to be in June 5.

The formal advertisement required by law appears in The Freeman this evening.

So far, Commissioner Duffey has shown himself willing to in part make good the previous blunders that have delayed the building of the bridge. His further conduct will be watched with interest.

CAMP WALTON FOR BOY SCOUTS

Senator Charles W. Walton has given the Boy Scouts of Kingston the use of a 15 acre pine grove on his farm on Lucas turnpike, three miles from the city, for their summer camp this season. An inspection of the camp was made Saturday by Senator Walton, Scout Commissioner Charles A. Warren and County Supt. Raymond Sanderson, the latter taking samples from the water supply for analysis. Scout Master Harry Avery and a detail from Troop One were also at the camp site.

With this large tract available to the scouts and the comparative ease of access from the city special interest is being shown in camp plans. Some eighty or ninety scouts will probably join in the camp this season and dates and other arrangements are already being gone over by the Scout Council of which Senator Walton is a vice-president.

Several springs run through the property and, in addition to securing water from these, it is the intention of the camp planners to dam this water in a natural valley and make a safe and shallow swimming pool for the boys.

Last year the scouts had a camp at Pratt Boyce's farm on the Saugerties road and this year there is considerable enthusiasm over the project, especially in view of the action of Senator Walton in placing this splendid site at their disposal.

GEN. PERSHING SAYS HIS FORCE IS SAFE

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Advance Base, Punitive Expedition United States Army near Laguna de Itasca, Mexico, May 14.—Via Radio to Yampiquia, Mex., and Columbus, N. M., May 15.—General John J. Pershing, commander of the American forces now in Mexico, reached the advanced base here today on a tour of inspection. General Pershing emphatically denied reports that his forces are in a precarious position and in danger of attack.

To correspondents, General Pershing said:

"You may say that the United States forces now in Mexico are fully able to cope with any situation which may arise, and you may add that there is no danger of attack from any source or direction. The result of the battle a few days ago at Oje Azules put such fear into the hearts of the bandits that it will be a long time before they will invite another such meeting."

General Pershing denied categorically that there has been any movement toward the border, or that any such move is contemplated in the immediate future.

ROUTED EIGHT MEN WITH AID OF HAT

John Hoffman Tells Recorder Lang Remarkable Tale of a Fight and Flight—Sent to Benedictine Sanatorium for Treatment.

The European war missed a hero when John Hoffman did not enlist, according to the tale of his prowess, as when armed only with his hat he put eight men to flight Saturday evening who had invaded his bedroom with the intention of "doping him."

After hearing his yarn Recorder Lang thought the best thing to do was to send John to the Benedictine Sanatorium for treatment. John is on the verge of the "D. T."

Saturday John was placed under arrest at the request of his sister and brought to the city hall. This morning he was arraigned before Recorder Lang and when questioned he said that he had gone to bed as usual that night and something kept him from falling asleep. He was just dozing off when he heard a noise in his bedroom and opening his eyes a trifle he saw his bed was surrounded by eight men. With a yell John leaped out of bed and grasping his hat which was the nearest weapon he could find he uttered a yell and with terror in their eyes the eight men madly scattered some crawling under the bed and others jumped behind the pictures on the wall while John victorious stood in the center of the bedroom floor waving his hat about his head.

"What were the eight men doing in your room John?" asked the recorder.

"They came to dope me," replied John. He continued "But when they saw me leap out of bed one of them said 'I guess we came too early for him.'"

After considering John's case Recorder Lang reached the conclusion that the best place for John was where he could receive medical treatment. He was very nervous and shaky this morning and complained of pains in his side. He told his wild tale with the utmost composure, and gave a dramatic illustration of how he put the eight men to rout.

John has been drinking heavily for some days past.

SIR ROGER CASEMENT TRIED FOR TREASON

Irish Knight Arraigned in Police Court in London—Attorney General Outlines the Case Against Him.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

London, May 15.—Charged with high treason both within and without the realm of England, Sir Roger Casement, who was captured while trying to land arms and ammunition on Irish soil from a German auxiliary, and a companion, Daniel Julian Bailey, were arraigned here today in police court.

Bailey, who escaped at the time of Sir Roger's capture, was captured on Sunday in Wandsworth. He had been living in disguise for more than three weeks while Scotland Yard scoured the British Isles for him.

Sir Roger, who is one of the most famous prisoners arraigned since the outbreak of the war, was described as having no occupation and no fixed place of abode. Bailey was described as a soldier.

The charge against the defendants was that they did "on divers occasions between November, 1914 and April 21, 1916, unlawfully, maliciously and traitorously commit high treason within and without the realm of England, in contempt of our sovereign Lord King and his laws, to the evil example of others and in like case contrary to the due allegiance of the said defendants."

The prisoners, especially Sir Roger, seemed to be in excellent health and spirits. They were escorted to the court from London Tower under a military escort. The trip was made secretly in order to prevent any untoward demonstration in the streets.

There were accommodations for only about 60 spectators in the court, but despite the limited space a great crowd clamored for admission and the police on duty outside the court had a difficult time in restraining them.

Since his arrest Sir Roger has devoted considerable time preparing data to be used in his own defense. He attempted to secure Sir Edward Carson, the leader of the Ulster Unionists, to defend him, but this request, though it was reported, failed. If this request was true the circumstances presented a strange anomaly for Sir Edward Carson is at the head of an Irish faction which is bitterly opposed to Home Rule for Ireland.

Historic Bow Street Court was filled to capacity when Sir Frederick E. Smith, the attorney general, opened the case for the government. Sir Frederick began with the life history of Casement, outlining his public activities in detail.

As the attorney general spoke Sir Roger sat in the dock, his chin resting upon the palm of his hand. He glanced keenly at the magistrate from time to time and then shifted his gaze back to the face of Sir Frederick or to the spectators.

Sir Roger seemed to enjoy the intense public interest which his trial had created. This interest had been heightened in the British Isles and extended beyond by the uprising in Ireland and the execution of the Sinn Féin leaders.

As the trial proceeded a report became current that Casement had made a long statement to the authorities which might shorten the proceedings. While Sir Roger was by far the chief center of interest the crowd showed considerable curiosity toward his co-defendant Bailey, who was said to have made the journey from Germany to Ireland in a submarine.

DRY GOODS FIRM IN BANKRUPTCY

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, May 15.—Three small creditors filed an involuntary petition in bankruptcy today against Mills & Gibbs, a $2,000,000 dry goods firm.

The liabilities of the firm are estimated at more than $2,000,000. No estimate of the assets is available.

The Mills & Gibbs firm was incorporated in 1899 in New Jersey. It has branches in Baltimore, Philadelphia, Boston, Chicago, St. Louis and in other American cities, as well as in Nottingham, Eng., and Paris, being one of the largest dry goods houses in the world.

It was capitalized with $2,000,000 common, $1,000,000 first preferred and $1,000,000 second preferred stock, but none of the first preferred was ever issued.

The officers of the company are: President and treasurer, William T. Evans; vice president and secretary, F. A. Valentine, assistant secretary and assistant treasurer, W. Roescher.

Schoolmasters' Council Met.

After a fine dinner at the Palatine Hotel in Newburgh, members of the Schoolmasters' Council of the Highlands, heard an interesting address Friday night by Dr. Frank D. Blodgett, president of Adelphi College, New York. He spoke on "Some By-products of Education."

Dr. Blodgett is a strong advocate for preparedness and touched upon that subject during the course of his remarks. He also said that it needs more than a college degree to make a successful teacher. Among those who attended the meeting were A. B. Bennett, New Paltz; W. Lloyd Harris, Ellenville, and Dr. J. C. Bliss, Dr. B. H. Mattison, of New Paltz. This was the May meeting of the council.

Poughkeepsie Plumbers Strike.

There seems to be no more likelihood of a settlement of the strike of the Poughkeepsie journeymen plumbers than at the time the men walked out at the first of the month. They were receiving $4 a day and asked for an increase of five cents an hour, bringing their daily wage up to $4.40 per day. This demand was refused by the master plumbers of the bridge city. The plumbers have since offered to compromise on $4.25 per day which offer was refused and the employers are still refusing to grant any increase whatever. They claim that $4 a day is enough pay for a plumber.

TELEGRAPHERS' STRIKE AVERTED.

FEDS IN FINE FORM THIS SEASON.

The Wilbur Feds baseball team are rounding into shape for the 1916 season as was demonstrated at the Athletic Field Sunday afternoon when they defeated the Mystics by the score of 6 to 3. The Feds played an exceptionally tight game, making no false moves and plays, and also showing up well at the bat. Lynch started right off by hitting the ball over the left field fence for a home run. Cullen and Bush were the battery for the Feds and displayed fine form. McAuliffe, Doyle and McMan were in the points for the Mystics.

Liquor is Seized.

Under the direction of Deputy Internal Revenue Collector John Deiseroth, the first seizures since he assumed the duties several weeks ago, were effected the past few days in Orange county. No hotels were included, a saloon in Walden, one in Maybrook and another in Monticary being visited by the authorities. No names are made public at the office of Collector Deiseroth, but it is said the Walden seizure was made on Wednesday and the other two Friday.

USUAL STREET SPRINKLING PLAN

The usual arrangements by property owners for sprinkling the city streets may be varied this year by the awarding of a contract to Vincent Edmunds by a number of the uptown merchants.

Up to 1907, all the street sprinkling in the city was done by contracts between individual property owners and the street sprinkling contractors.

In May, 1907, a petition was presented to the common council, signed by 120 residents of Broadway between the city hall and Albany avenue, asking that that thoroughfare between the points stated be sprinkled at the expense of the city. The petition was referred to the ways and means committee, which reported in favor of granting the petition and extending the amount of space to be sprinkled from Albany avenue to St. Mary's Church, a. the top of the Broadway hill. The matter was referred to the street committee with power.

The street committee investigated the cost and found that the city was paying $60 a year for the city sprinkling which was being done in front of the city property. In May, 1908, complaint regarding the dusty condition of Broadway was received by the common council, and in the same month the street committee directed that Broadway between Albany avenue and St. Mary's Church be sprinkled at the expense of the city.

The following year, 1909, the work of tearing up Broadway for the new brick pavement was begun and the sprinkling was discontinued and with the exception of 1910, none of the city streets have been sprinkled at the city's expense.

Since the Broadway pavement was laid, that street has been flushed regularly twice a week by the city force, which has also flushed all the other paved streets twice a week. This plan will be followed again this year by the city.

In some of the streets property owners have declined to join with their neighbors in contracting for sprinkling and the street in front of their property has remained dry and dusty.

AUTO COLLISIONS AND SPEEDERS

Recorder Lang Passes Upon Several Automobile Cases—One Arrested for Speeding, and Two for Reckless Driving.

Several automobile cases occupied the attention of Recorder Lang Saturday evening and today, and one was adjourned for a trial on Tuesday morning.

Alvin Letwitz, who said he lived in New York city, was arrested by Policeman Lawrence on Saturday for speeding his automobile up Broadway. He was arraigned later that evening before Recorder Lang who fined him $5. He paid the fine.

This morning there was no appearance on the part of the complainant in the case of Samuel A. Aftron of this city and he was discharged and the case dismissed. Aftron was arrested by Chief Wood on a charge of reckless driving in running his automobile into the farm wagon of Mahlon Houghtaling of Hurley. The wagon was wrecked and Mr. Houghtaling injured so badly that he had to be taken to the Kingston City Hospital for treatment. It was stated that the parties had made a settlement between themselves, which was the reason why Mr. Houghtaling did not appear in court to press the charge.

SATURDAY NIGHT FIGHTERS FINED

Three Rounded up by Police—Fight at "Smokestack Jimmy's" Saloon in Which Fighters Made Escape—Police Fight on Third Avenue.

Either the balmy air of Saturday or the fact that it was pay day may have had something to do in the matter, but nevertheless there were a number of fights staged Saturday evening, and several of the fighters were rounded up and punished by the infliction of a fine.

The first two fighters to be brought to the attention of Recorder Lang, who held court on Sunday morning to dispose of the cases, were James Ryan and Edward Murtha, who got into an argument on upper Broadway and from words proceeded to blows. In the heat of battle one of the fighters stuck his arm through a store window. They were arrested by Policemen James J. Murphy. Sunday when arraigned before the recorder they were fined $2 each and warned to be more careful in the future. It was understood that they had settled for the broken window.

Another fighter rounded up by Policeman William J. Reardon was Edward Post who staged a fight on lower Broadway in front of Sharkey's saloon. The man he was fighting with escaped, but Edward was not fleet enough to evade the long arm of the law in the person of Officer Reardon. Sunday morning he also contributed to the funds of the city treasury by paying a fine of $2.

An argument over a game of pool in a saloon on East Union street called by "the gang" "Smokestack Jimmy's place," resulted in a free for all fight between three negroes, who continued the argument outside on the street. Over two hundred people were drawn to the scene by the excitement, and the fight while it lasted was said to be a hummer. The sudden cry that "Watch out for the cops" sent the fighters scattering and when Policeman Reardon rechecked the scene the fighters had made their escape although the officer searched the saloon and the surrounding vicinity. One of the negroes is said to have had his thumb severely bitten during the affray.

Fight on Third Avenue.

Another fight was staged on Third avenue, but this was not called to the attention of the police. From what could be learned the trouble was between two Polish families, who are neighbors. It seems that the children of one family were throwing stones into the yard of the other family and when the head of the household came out and told them to stop the stone throwers' father was offended and jumping the fence he grasped the other household by the throat. The latter's wife seeing her husband in difficulty rushed to his assistance when the assailant dropped the husband and turned his attention to the woman, whom he also grasped by the throat and it is said struck her in the face.

POLICE REACH QUARTER CENTURY

Today Marked Twenty-Fifth Anniversary of Organization of Local Police Force—Sergeant Thomas J. Murray Only Surviving Member Still in Harness.

Today marked the twenty-fifth anniversary of the organization of Kingston's police force, which was organized May 15, 1891, with seven members. The only member of the original seven still in active harness is Sergeant Thomas J. Murray, who was the recipient of many congratulations today from his host of friends complimenting him on the completion of twenty-five years of active and efficient work as a member of Kingston's finest. Sergeant Murray still retains in large part his youthful fire and energy and is considered one of the most efficient police officers in New York state. During his quarter century of active service he has become one of the best known men in this part of the state, and is honored for his work as a police officer and as a man.

The force was organized just twenty-five years ago with Chief Hood and Sergeant Murray in charge. The patrolmen were James D. McIntyre, Thomas B. Cullen, George Roach, John Kiernan and William Shuberg. Of this seven but two are alive, Sergeant Murray, still active, and George Roach. The bill creating the police force also specified that the constables who were serving at the time should act with the force. There were four constables at the time. They were Thomas Johnston, Michael J. Cahill, John Sullivan and "Jack" Barry. Of that number but one, Michael J. Cahill, is still living. Mr. Cahill when he became a member of the police force was appointed sergeant, which office he held until his retirement some time, caused by injuries received while alighting from a Broadway trolley car.

There has been many changes in the personnel of the force since it was first organized and it now numbers one chief, two sergeants, twenty-three patrolmen and a patrol driver.

The force as it is constituted today follows: Chief, J. Allan Wood; Sergeants, Thomas J. Murray and William F. Hauley; Patrolmen, Charles J. Phinney, Edwin Shadler, Bernard J. O'Neil, Frank H. Snyder, William J. Reardon, William Ryan, James V. Connelly, William Hess, Cornelius Van Buren, Augustus Keuhn, Patrick J. White, John Daun, Frederick J. Pout, Arthur J. Dempsey, James J. Murphy, Robert F. Healey, John G. Boyd, Charles J. Murphy, Andrew W. Walker, Lawrence F. Dugan, James E. Welsh, James V. Simpson and James Lawrence and Patrol Driver Simon Wood.

The names of the patrolmen are not given in the order of service but as listed in the city directory.

The congregation has been without a rabbi for over a year, and will have candidates come here who will be given a hearing, and later the congregation will meet and a candidate selected. It was also decided to buy the iron fence around the property of the Wurst Street Baptist Church and erect it around the property of the Hebrew Free School at the corner of Post and Spring streets.

Friendship.
Friendship springs up and grows naturally; it cannot be planted at will. Foolish friendships are often formed in youth. It is useless to talk against them, since young people always resent criticism of their friends. We must simply tolerate them and trust to the awakenings of common sense to prove all frivolous friendships false and unworthy.

FOOTGEAR.

A Vivid Comparison of This and Last Year's Styles.

Anybody who predicted that so called "fancy footwear" would be out of fashion this spring made a wrong guess. It may be true that last autumn many of the extreme styles of ornate footwear that had been worn during the summer were discarded, but it is also true that they were discarded simply to make way for other styles of fancy footwear.

This spring the shops are as far from showing plain black boots and shoes as they were last year. Yet the boots and shoes of this spring are quite unlike those of last.

To begin with, a novelty is the return of the colonial pump. It is here in all its glory of tongue, and most women are thankful to see it again, for surely the colonial pump is comfort itself. It starts on without rubbing at the heel, which is something few other cuts of pump do.

Colonial pumps are made in patent leather, in black kid and in colors. Tan kid in various shades shows buckles of brown enamel or brass. Some of the black kid pumps have cut steel buckles, and the colored ones have either silver buckles of true colonial pattern—which also grace some of the smartest dull black kid pumps—or buckles covered with the colored kid.

Buckskin shoes are worn this spring. There are some very good high cream and light tan buckskin boots, both buttoned and laced, with French heels, that are admirable for street wear with light frocks.

The blind eyelets are still used for laced boots and the round laces. Cut work is shown on some of the white kid and buckskin boots and also on those of black patent leather. It forms a decorative band on each side of the front lacing.

Although leather or kid of two colors is not combined so much as it was last year, there are many sport shoes of white buckskin or canvas and tan leather. The combinations differ. Sometimes tan heel and toe caps on white boots with tan laces are found. Sometimes the vamps will be tan, with a white top and toe.

There are high buttoned or laced suede boots in violet, dark blue, green and other colors to wear with silk frocks of the same color.

Three buckled straps are found on some of the new low shoes. The buckles, of nickel, are small, but heavy. Sometimes the straps come from the edge of the sole.

SISTER'S HAT.

how fore and aft. On the left side is a fruit cluster in gay colors. This hat answers the prime need of durability for everyday wear.

Women Make War Machines.
An exhibition of the work women are doing to replace the men who are at war is being held in Kensington, England. All that is best in women's industry is shown, including what is done in the home, in the munitions and Red Cross work and women's ability to provide new careers for others. One woman, a consulting engineer, demonstrates how the aeroplane depends on women. Careful and responsible workers are necessary for the safety of the air; for depends on the women's work. In Glasgow the women are instructed in train driving so that as male employees leave for enlistment their places may be filled quickly.

Fresh Gloves.
Soiled gloves are an abomination, especially in the spring. There may be a day when we shall look back upon the soiled white and colored gloves of which some of us are guilty occasionally with as much distaste as we now feel on soiled shoes. Work out some time now whereby your gloves can always be fresh. Wash fabric gloves, wash kid gloves and silk gloves can all be kept spotlessly fresh without much trouble.

To Cream Hard Butter.
If butter is hard to cream don't warm it. This changes the texture of it. Instead run it through the vegetable ricer. This breaks it into small pieces, and it can then be readily creamed.

Saving Your Mirrors.
Sunshine is destructive to mirrors and often causes them to assume a milky appearance which can never be removed. In arranging your room be careful to place the mirror so it won't receive the direct rays of the sun.

Miceproof Furniture.

A sure way to keep mice out of bedrooms, children's, sideboards, etc., is to tack a piece of zinc under each article of furniture. The zinc should be made to fit closely. It is not necessary in the case of bureaus to put zinc under each drawer; one piece at the very bottom will suffice.

Debt World Owe to the Press.

In normal times, under ordinary, everyday conditions, the press has the immense advantage. Its facilities are incomparable. It sweeps the whole world and every day keeps alive in us a sense of common interest in the affairs of our community.—Dr. Albert Shaw.

Grant Soldier's Idiosyncrasy.

Marshal Ney, who was as handsome as he was brave, is said never to have appeared on the field of battle until he was dressed with scrupulous elegance and his beard carefully combed and perfumed. When he was led out to execution he was as cool as though going to a dance.

DON'T Offend Customers by Offering Them "Just as Goods"

There is one thing that goes far toward the winning of trade in a retail store, namely, the delivery to a customer, without any attempt at evasion or at steering him off, of exactly the article he asks for by name.

Ask yourself this question, Mr. Man-Behind-the-Counter: When you go into a store to buy something you want, and you ask for the article by name, and you know it by sight, how do you feel when the man who serves you tries to offer you a "substitute" or a "Just as Good" instead of the article you have asked him for plainly by name?

There is probably no thing that provokes the average man more than to try to force upon him a substitute instead of the article he asks for. He feels his own intelligence is being insulted. He thinks the proprietor of the store is trying to make an extra profit out of him. He believes the proprietor has instructed the salesman to sell, if possible, an inferior article which carries a larger profit for the dealer than the article which he asks for.

He makes up his mind that he will never enter that store again, and will tell his friends to avoid it.

Dealers can always win trade by giving customers what they ask for.

KINGSTON, N. Y., MAY 15 1916.

As a general thing, parades are not impressive. Most observant people agree with La Fontaine that the noiseless people are the dangerous ones, and the ordinary procession is more likely to arouse derision than enthusiasm. Yet there are exceptions to all rules, and the big preparedness demonstration in New York City Saturday doubtless accomplished far-reaching good. The thousands who marched are entirely free from the suspicion of having been paid in one way or another for their exhausting labors, which is not usually the case in parades arranged under partisan political auspices. These men and women freely contributed their time and money out of purely patriotic motives. They wished to impress the vote-hunters in Congress with the knowledge that the demand for preparedness comes from the best and strongest elements of our population, which will punish such legislative representatives as stand in the way of making the United States secure against aggression and insult. Only an idiot will repeat the silly assertion that nobody but munitions manufacturers are back of the preparedness movement. If Congress persists in its apparent intention to thwart the popular will in this matter there will be a fine opportunity for submarines in the crowded waters of upper Salt Creek after the next election.

While representatives of the United States and Mexico are holding futile conferences, the shipment of arms and ammunition from this country across the border continues. The quantity is limited only by the inability of the Mexican chiefs to raise much money. Villa being entirely bankrupt, and the others nearly so. As our Government has recognized Carranza and is technically on friendly terms with him, it cannot with good grace prohibit him from buying any of our products. Carranza evidently has a clear understanding of the situation. His position is a difficult one. On the one hand, the Mexicans are clamoring to have him order the American troops to get out, and if he refuses he is likely to be overthrown and perhaps executed. According to a despatch to the New York Times, the State of Chihuahua is being circled by three patriots named Dominguez, Angel and Acosta, who accuse Carranza of being a traitor and call upon "every son of glorious Mexico" to rally around them. This makes another warlike faction, and there will be others. On the other hand, if Carranza does order our troops out, he can get no more ammunition, since Mexicans do not know enough to make any that is worth having. It will be seen whether he is clever enough to switch his policy at the most favorable time. Whatever happens, nothing but discredit can accrue to the Wilson administration for its handling of the matter from the beginning until now.

A good part of this week will be taken up in Congress by discussion of the Administration's bill which provides for putting our Government into the shipping business. The Republicans are solidly against it, and so would be the Democrats if they dared risk displeasing the Administration and being shut out of patronage. The measure is the most preposterous thing of its kind ever seriously advocated. All the shipyards of the country are working overtime. No matter how much money the Government might appropriate, production could not be increased materially. It is true new plants might be put in operation, but this would take time, and the bill itself provides that the Government shall go out of this business within five years after the end of the European war. So, by the time the Government became ready to accomplish something, it would have to wind up the project with dead plants on its hands. It has been suggested that the plan is to buy the German ships interned in our harbors. It seems incredible that Germany would permit the sale, because she will need all the ships she can get to restore her shattered commerce after the war ends. Neither is it thinkable that Great Britain would submit to the consumption of such a deal, and we might easily drift into serious trouble. The most reasonable explanation is that the Democratic leaders aim merely at another distribution of "pork." Whenever the Government expends fifty million dollars or thereabout, there is always profit for somebody "on the inside." We do not believe that the President is knowingly a party to such a traitorous and thieving scheme, but he has evidently been fooled by the same crowd of crooks who have been able to influence him for their benefit and his harm ever since he entered the White House.

LITTLE LAUGHS.

Edith—"Haven't you and Jack been engaged long enough to get married?" Ethel—"Too long! He hasn't got a cent left."—Boston Transcript.

"I think I'll start a magazine to be called 'Umbrage.'" "Why that somewhat unusual name?" "People are so apt to take it."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

"You never encourage mud-slinging in a campaign." "No," replied Senator Sorghum; "throw a rock."—Washington Star.

Crawford—"Edison claims that four hours' sleep are enough for anybody." Crabshaw—"Many of us haven't been getting more than that since he invented the phonograph."—Judge.

"Little boy, little boy, you shouldn't fight that way." "Hold off with your peace talk, lady. One more punch on the nose from me and I'll have this kid ready to listen to you."—Detroit Free Press.

"A previous witness testified that the man vanished as completely as if the earth had opened and swallowed him up." "More so, your honor. He vanished as completely as if he had run over somebody with his car."—Puck.

A Dog Fight.

An officer attached to the White House tells a story of a small boy when President Wilson encountered at Staunton, Va.

The President was speaking to a crowd from the steps of a seminary for girls. The boy pushed and shoved his way through the crowd until he found himself squarely in front of the President, whereupon he shouted excitedly:

"Where is it? Where is it?" Mr. Wilson stopped his speech and said good naturedly: "Well my boy, I suppose I am it."

At this the youngster's face assumed a look of disgust. "Oh," he said, in a lower tone, "I thought it was a dog fight."

Wasn't Calling Her Dear.

Desirous of buying a camera, a certain fair young woman inspected the stock of a local shopkeeper.

"Is this a good one?" she asked, as she picked up a dainty little machine. "What is it called?"

"That's the Belvedere," said the handsome young shopman politely. There was a chilly silence. Then the young woman drew herself coldly erect, fixed him with an icy stare, and asked again:

"Er—and can you recommend the Belva?"—Kansas City Star.

On the Inside.

George Fitch, the Illinois humorist, had his own ideas about prison reform schemes. He expressed his attitude one day while discussing

Thomas Mott Osborne's humanitarian efforts. "Osborne's ideas may work out all right," said Fitch, "but whenever I hear of a warden holding surprise parties and rainbow teas in his penitentiary I think of what happened when Tim Cullinan was Chief of Police in Junction City, Kan. Tim, in fact, was the whole police force. He had 11 prisoners on his hands, and was anxious to get rid of them, for they were a heavy responsibility. Tim having to keep watch over the actions of all Junction City. When you feed the critters," he said to the jailer one day, "just accidentally leave the door open and get out of sight for awhile." But times were hard and picking up a living outside wasn't so easy. Tim hadn't figured on that, but he did when he came back that evening and found the 11 prisoners still there and seven more who had slipped in while the jailer wasn't looking. Laying was better and cheaper inside the jail than outside."

Why He Objected.

Bill Smith had just cause for complaints. "Don't I always tell you," he said to his wife, "that I won't have the kids bringing in the coals from the shed in my best suit? The shape of that suit is spoilt."

"A little extra coal won't do no harm to yer suit," said his wife. "You don't see the point," said Bill Smith. "I only wears that suit in the evening and if I takes it off in the head it leaves a big black hand around me forehead, and the consequence is I gets accused for washing my face with me 'at on. It ain't no wonder."

Women's Sports Clothes

The Latest News from Bond Street, London

And WANAMAKER'S, New York

What shall we wear a-golfing and for our hikes through spring woods and green meadows.

"Classic country suits," replied the tailor next door to Bond Street, who cuts his cloth for duchess and for American with equal aplomb and dexterity.

(One of the sunniest men that ever tailored, this. He seems to have inherited a rare country freshness and sunshine.)

Skirts of country suits will be from two and three quarters to three yards wide; beyond that they grow cumbersome and get in the way. They will be as short as one wants them.

Pockets Many and Various

The jackets and some of the skirts will have pockets. Plenty of them. Women like pockets these days almost as much as men. Big patch pockets, larger pouch pockets, good size golf ball pockets, small handkerchief pockets.

We have these suits, $50 and $55.

Coats will be short or medium length and built especially for country wear. Warm, loose and well-cut to hang as only a finely tailored coat can. Norfolk or pleated, or plain, or belted; any style or color the individual client chooses is quite correct.

British suits answering these descriptions are in the English Shops at $35.

For the Duchess W—

"I am making this for the Duchess of W—" indicating a half finished model of furze brown tweed. Rather closely fitted for a country suit and stitched in long lines to bring out the silhouette. It is somewhat of a mixture of town and country suit and we rather deplore such combinations, but nothing else quite suited Her Ladyship's purpose.

"Personally, I recommend this suit called 'Ho, Golf,' utterly mannish, as you notice, but it has a concealed pleat at the shoulder which gives a good broad line and also adds an inch or two to the wearer's freedom of drive when golfing. Pocketed three times, also—and that is an advantage."

This suit is in the English Shops, $50 and $55.

Plenty of Materials and Colors

Ranged around the shop on shelves all the way to the ceiling were be-paired and uncovered rolls of cloth. "Enough to last me until 1917," said the tailor for the city maid who would a-country roam.

Homespun from the north of Scotland, the Hebrides and west of Ireland.

Made by the people in their own homes on handlooms. Fashioned of soft, untwisted yarns of the best Australian wool. Usually colored by the folk themselves with their crottle (seaweed) and the vegetable dyes. Marvelous bright emerald green, geranium pink, brilliant orange and reds and purple—colors to dream of. (A hopsacking soft as fur was in green and mauve). A picture-frame plaid was in brown and violet.

"The Government has ordered such quantities of stuffs from every weaver that I have had to get my supply when and how I could," said the tailor, "but I have the satisfaction of having forwarded all my orders to America at practically the same prices as last year."

This man's clothes are to be had in Wanamaker's in almost as great variety as in London.

British-made suits, $18.50 to $55.

British-made topcoats, $35.

British-made skirts, $7.50 to $19.50.

British-made raincoats, $7.50 to $45.

The English Shops, Second floor, Old Building.

The Wanamaker Store will come to you over the Mail Order Bridge, if you cannot come to the Store. Spring and Summer catalog will be mailed free for the asking.

DOWN RIVER BRICK STRIKE SETTLED

The strike of the three brickyards of Aldridge Brothers and McCabe & Duggan at Dutchess Junction was settled late last week. The men received an increase in wages of ten cents a day while the output of the pit was reduced from 25,000 to 22,500 bricks a day. This practically means that the entire labor trouble on the brickyards down the river has been settled and work resumed, when the brick manufacturers met the demands of the men.

Lye as a Cleanser.

Pulverized lye can be bought in cans with perforated tops. It is so useful in the household that no housekeeper can afford to be without it. If put into the sink, it keeps the drain clean, the lye uniting with grease and making a soap. It is invaluable for removing grease and stains from pots, pans and kettles, and especially the garbage pail, which should by all means be kept clean. A long-handled dish mop should be kept on hand to be used when cleaning with lye, as it is exceedingly injurious to the hands.

PHOTOGRAPHY UNDER FIRE.

I. H. Hare Shows Pictures and Gives an Interesting Talk.

A large and appreciative audience listened to a most remarkable talk on "Photography Under Fire" by I. H. Hare, the noted war photographer of Leslie's Weekly, at Grange Hall, Lake Katrine, on Saturday evening.

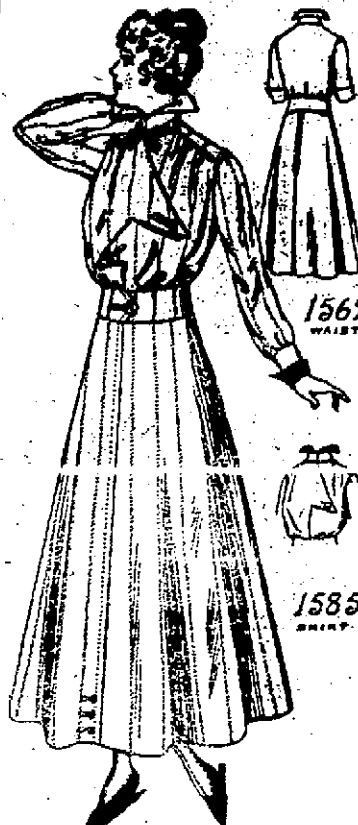

In connection with one hundred and fifty slides made by the speaker from negatives taken by himself in the many countries visited, he told of Meeting with Villa, Madera and Orozco in Mexico, being in the thick of the night at Vera Cruz and Inarce, finally landing in Mexico City. Several views of these cities were shown that were taken from aeroplanes at an altitude of 2,500 feet, also excellent portraits of the principals in the present difficulties in that country. Views in all the European countries involved in the present conflict showing every phase of life under war conditions were also shown.

Mr. Hare has just returned from Saloniki and volunteered his services for the benefit of the Grange in this district, where he has spent several summer vacations as the guest of W. Trueman. The Rev. Dr. Wyckoff paid a splendid tribute to the speaker, expressing the satisfaction of those present at the enjoyable and instructive evening afforded.

Thrown From Automobile.

The Franklin automobile owned by Joseph Mayes of this city met with an accident on Saturday night while returning to this city along the Boulevard and one of the occupants was slightly injured. Mr. Mayes with two friends, Ernest Smith and Mr. Avery were returning from a ride and while coming down the hill just above Wall street the machine struck one of the many "thank-you-ma-ams" which adorn that section of the street and made an endeavor to loop-the-loop. The three occupants were thrown out and Mr. Smith was rendered unconscious and at first it was thought that he was seriously injured. However after being attended by Dr. Van Wageningen he was able to resume his position today at Spencer's bakery where he is employed. Although the machine turned turtle the other two occupants were uninjured. After the machine was righted it was towed to the garage by Charles Merritt of Clinton avenue.

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

1569—Waist. 1585—Skirt. A Simple Graceful Gown.

Waist Pattern 1569 and Skirt Pattern 1585 are here combined. Striped voile in green tones was used.

The waist fronts are cut with deep points, crossed at the center; the back extends over the front in yoke fashion. The skirt is a four-gore model, finished with an inverted back plait. Taffeta or velvet would be nice for this design or, if desired, the waist could be of linen, crepe or silk, and the skirt of serge or broadcloth. If preferred the waist may be finished as in the small view, with one point. The skirt is cut in 6 sizes: 22, 24, 26, 28, 30 and 32 inches waist measure. The waist in 6 sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust measure. It requires 7 1/2 yards of 36-inch material to make the entire dress for a 36-inch size. For the waist alone it will require 3 1/2 yards of 36-inch material. For the skirt 2 1/2 yards of 44-inch material. The skirt measures about 3 yards at the lower edge.

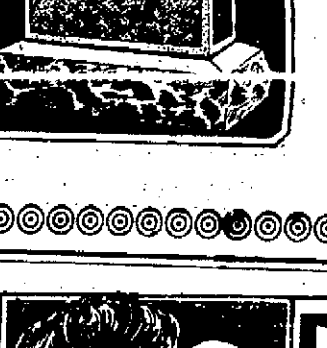

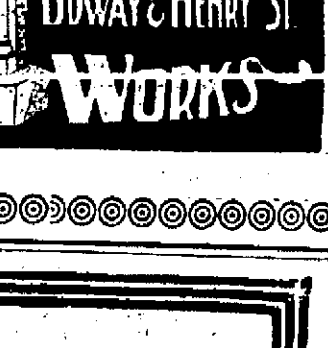

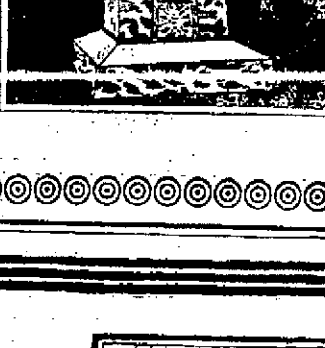

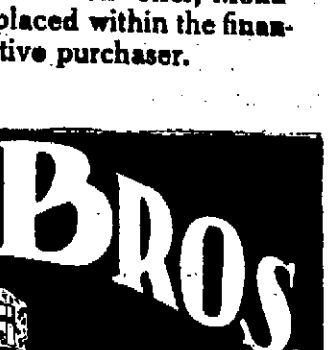

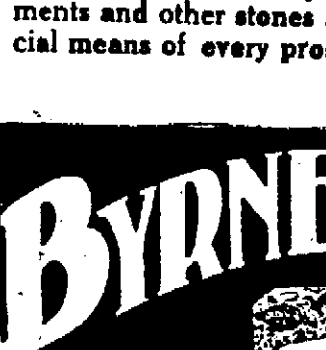

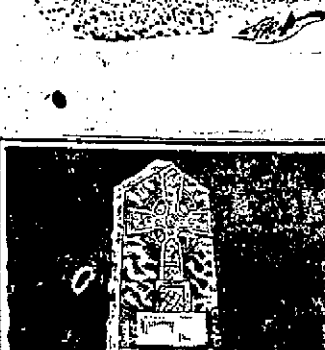

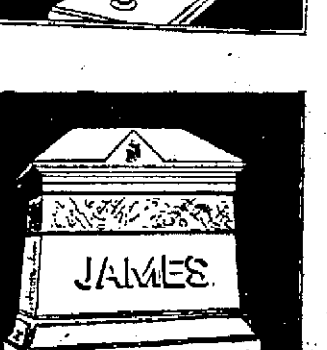

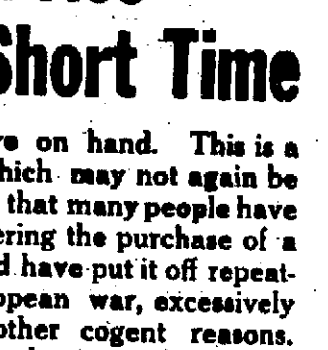

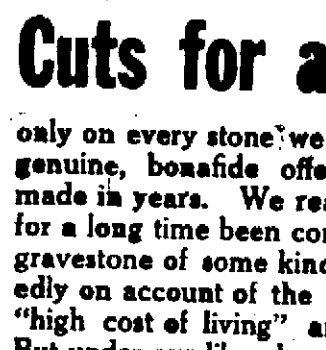

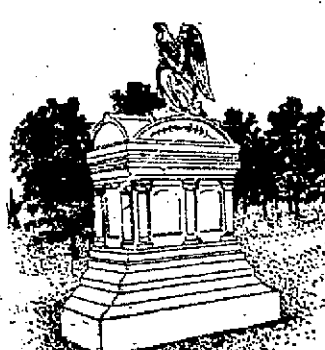

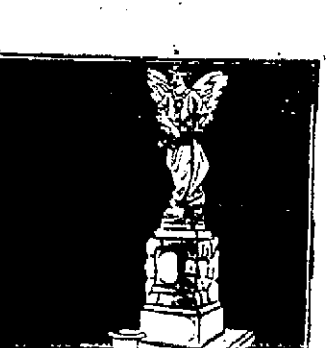

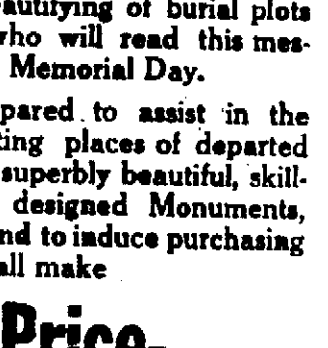

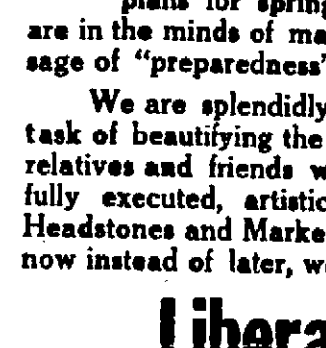

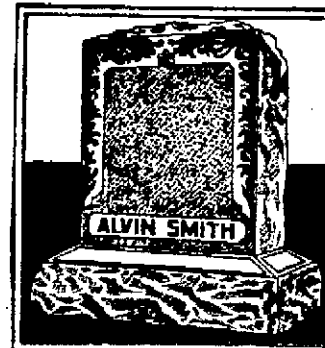

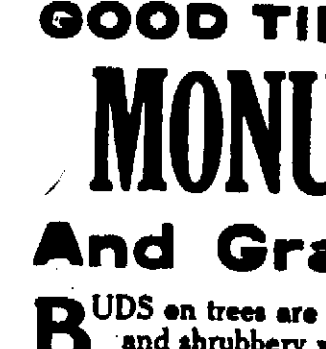

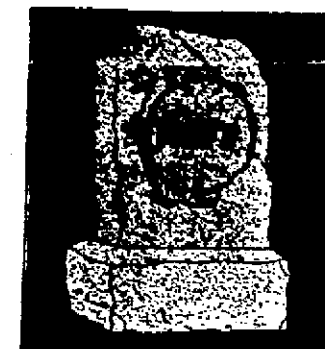

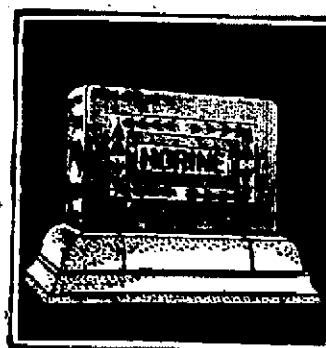

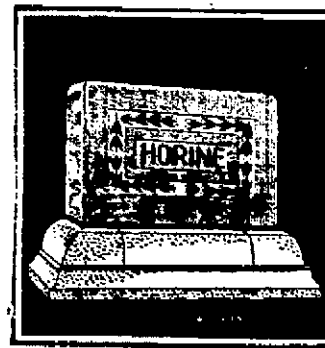

This illustration calls for TWO separate patterns which will be mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents FOR EACH pattern in silver stamps, by The Freeman Pattern Department, Rondout, N. Y. Be sure to state size wanted.

MOTHERS' DAY IN CITY CHURCHES

Mothers' Day was observed in many of the city churches on Sunday with appropriate services. A great degree of interest was manifested in the occasion which had come to be an institution with many denominations. At St. James's M. E. Church decorations were in order with white as the prevailing color of the flowers. Spring blossoms were the feature of decorations in nearly all the churches.

At St. John's Episcopal Church, the rector, the Rev. Charles F. Kennedy, spoke on the importance of the mother's place in the home and regretted the passing of the home from its proper place in American life. Almost every great man in history, he said, owed his inspiration to his mother. Today modern life presents new problems and the small apartment which has taken the place of the home in the life of our great cities offers no opportunity for exercise of the motherly care and influence so important in shaping the minds of young people. He held this responsible for the growth of the divorce evil. The speaker declared that proper preparation should begin with the home and that all efforts toward putting this nation on a sound basis should be directed to better safeguarding our home and mother from evil influences which work against the well-being of both of them.

PORT EWEN.

Port Ewen, May 13.—The penny social given under the auspices of the B. B.'s Friday evening in the Methodist Chapel, was a grand success.

The Missionary Society of the Reformed Church will meet at the home of Mrs. Mary Beckwith, corner of Main and Green streets, Tuesday, May 16, at 3 o'clock.

Charles Schweigel, who is employed at Poughkeepsie, spent the week end with his family at Oak Hill Cottage.

Port Ewen Lodge, No. 656, I. O. O. F., will meet this evening at 8 o'clock in their rooms in Pythian Hall.

John Farnberger, who is employed as mason on the West Shore Railroad, spent the week end at his home on Selver street.

Rufus Leffewer of Brooklyn spent the week end with his wife and son, Oswald, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oswald Neher, on Bayard street.

Mrs. Ada Hogan of Brooklyn is the guest of her sisters, Mrs. John Lampman and Mrs. Irving Merwin, on Broadway.

Harry Schweigel of Oak Hill Cottage, is employed in New York city.

Three o'clock Saturday afternoon the fire alarm rang and the whole neighborhood was started and rushed to the scene, which was at the home of Mrs. John Halliday, Bowne street. William Stephenson, a tinsmith, was burning the paint off of the gutters and the burning gasoline ignited the dry shingles, causing a stubborn fire to locate in the rafters and partitions. The Port Ewen fire department turned out in full force, applied the chemical apparatus with good results. A considerable amount of damage was done to the interior and exterior of the house by the smoke and chemicals.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lampman and Mr. and Mrs. Irving Merwin motored to Glens Falls Saturday and returned Sunday, accompanied by Mrs. J. C. Robinson and little son of Glens Falls.

J. C. Jump & Son have purchased a five passenger Ford 1916 model and also a delivery truck to be used in their grocery business.

Talk about Port Ewen not being on the map, there is not a village of its size along the Hudson that can boast of 30 owners of automobiles and many prospective who anticipate buying one or more. Broadway is lined with them now and when the bridge is built owners of wagons will have to use by roads or await results.

Mrs. John Halliday of Bowne street wishes to thank the members of the Port Ewen fire department, through the columns of this paper, for the heroic work they performed in saving her property from ruin Saturday afternoon. They worked commendably.

The teachers' training class will meet at the Methodist parsonage on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. Rev. Eugene A. Bookhout is in charge.

Harold Schenk, a student of New Brunswick Seminary, preached two wonderful sermons in the Reformed Church Sunday. His text at the evening service was 1 Tim. 4-8, "For Godliness is profitable for all things." Mr. Schenk is a very able speaker.

HOL LARIES.

(By Frank G. Menke.)

Report has it that Smokey Joe Wood will sign up with Cleveland. The Indians will have a team of world champion stars if they keep on. Notice they are still showing the way.

Despite injuries the Dodgers still keep a going. Three runs in the sixth were enough to defeat the Cards.

The Giants certainly must be playing with a hoss shoe. Five straight now. They are not only beating the western teams, but also took a full out of Jupp Pluv at Chicago yesterday.

Rube Benton saved the game for the Giants. He rushed to the rescue of wobbling Tesreau and struck out two men in the ninth. Robertson's home run with two on practically won the game.

The National League champs took ten innings to knock out the Reds. But a win in any inning is a win.

The Newark Internationals made a record for themselves. They showed the folks celebrating the founding of the city by winning 13 out of 14 games. They left for a jaunt on the road.

Red Monogram's Excursion.

The recently organized Red Monogram Baseball Club will run an excursion to Tivoli next Sunday afternoon, leaving Rondout at 1 o'clock, on the yacht Livingston. They will play the Tivoli team at that place.

STRUCK BY MOTORCYCLE.

Child Ran in Front of Machine on North Front Street.

Early Saturday evening Caroline, the five year old daughter of Ralph DeFoe, the barber next to Van Amburgh's garage on North Front street, was struck by a motorcycle driven by James Gillespie of Marbletown and was severely injured. Although the injuries are very painful they are not expected to result seriously.

At the time of the accident the motorcycle was proceeding slowly down North Front street. Several children were playing in the street and Gillespie made an endeavor to avoid striking them. The DeFoe girl became confused and ran into the machine, which fell upon her. She was picked up and hurried to her home and Mrs. O'Leary were summoned. An examination showed her left leg had been broken and there were abrasions and bruises all over her body. Her head had been cut in two or three places and she was suffering from shock. Although the injuries are very painful it is unlikely from present indications that any complications will set in.

Persons who saw the accident assert that it was in no way the fault of Mr. Gillespie but that the child ran in front of the machine.
